Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-15,21-32,50-59,66-69 and 71-74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 084 in view of JP 170.

The claims are unpatentable for the same reasons set forth in the previous office action.

Claims 16-20 and 45-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 084' in view of JP 170' as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Luo et al. claims are unpatentable for the same reasons set forth in the rejection of the same in the previous office action.

Claims 33-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 084 in view of JP170' as set forth above further taken with Stuart et al. Claims are unpatentable for the same reasons set forth in the previous office action.

Claims 60-65 are allowed.

Claims 70 and 75 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 08-19-04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's remarks advance that Jp 170 does not teach turbulent the flow of the working gas as claimed. Applicant should note figure 4 in 170' which does show working gas supplied by means 5 between the electrode 2 and inner tip 10. Any gas that increases cooling by breaking up the straight path out of the nozzle is obviously a producer of turbulence barring further description of the same. Note that the applied references teach the grooves and ribs, etc. on all of the torch components set forth in the instant claims. Note that the boundary layer in any case would be affected, as claimed. As per the reference to Luo et al. The ribs would increase turbulence just by the mere fact of enhancing cooling, since the straight flow path of the gas has been broken up. Applicant note that Luo defines the gas in a pattern, but makes no mention of the pattern or lack thereof formed by the ribs and other turbulence producers in the instant claims.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Mark H Paschall whose telephone number is 703 308-1642. The examiner can normally be reached on 7am - 3pm.
